THE STUDENTS OF
BROOKVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
PRESENT THE
1960 "BROOKLET"
THE SETTING

FOREWORD

The Brookville High School student has the opportunity to learn much while he attends high school. He learns how to co-operate and get along well with others; he acquires leadership in organizations; he develops his talents by participating in such activities as band, chorus, and sports; he develops a good school spirit by cheering in the Booster Club; he learns new skills in Projector's Club, Librarian's Club, and Science Club. All this, in addition to his regular school subjects, helps to make the graduating student a well-rounded individual with the qualities to become a valuable citizen of our community.

There is no typical Brookville High School student. The variation among individuals in high school is almost as wide as in society as a whole.

Of those who start as Freshmen, some twenty-five to thirty percent will lack the foresight to realize what a high school education means to them. These will drop out before graduation.

The remainder may vary greatly in ability and seriousness of purpose. A few may be outstanding and go on to become widely and favorably known in their chosen field. Most, however, will become average, solid American citizens, establishing homes, doing their part of the world's work, and contributing their share toward making their communities better places in which to live.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

In the last ten or twelve years, the general public has become more interested, excited, and concerned about their public schools. There has developed a new concept of, must we say, partnership between the professional educator, the school boards, and the citizens. As a result, we are planning, preparing, and building the best educational program for the student that the world has ever known.

Richard L. Evans once stated, "The Lord God has not told us all he knows--nor have the minds of men, as yet, discovered the complete or ultimate answers concerning men or mind or matter. But still there is sometimes conceit where there is a little learning. And when a person has learned more, by comparison, than another person, sometimes a little learning seems like a lot of learning. But conceit of learning is unbecoming any man--and all men--for there is no field of knowledge in which any man can be sure he has reached the ultimate in any area of endeavor."

Where could be a greater challenge for any student?

Those youngsters who enter Brookville High School for the first time, either as seventh graders or freshmen, do so with some amount of apprehension and concern. They realize that, for the first time, they will not be under the guidance of one teacher and in one room all day long, but under many teachers in several rooms. Most of these newcomers to B.H.S. adjust readily to their new situation and surroundings, and as a result enter into the true spirit of high school life. Others find adjustment difficult as some try to use their new found freedom of movement in negative ways, while others go into a shell of bewilderment and passive resistance.

The 1960 Brooklet is dedicated to portraying the growth of students through their work and play in the various activities that make up high school life. This growth is truly shown in this annual as you compare the physical features of the immature incoming students and their activities with those of the seniors. From the time a student enters high school until he or she graduates, the growth is usually phenomenal, as students blossom into young men and women ready to enter schools of advanced training, or to take part in the rigors of adult life.

GUIDANCE DIRECTOR

MR. HAUBERG
Guidance Director

The student at Brookville High School enjoys a most unusual opportunity today. Like the rest of his fellow American high school students, he has opportunities to receive schooling which are not generally available to all teenagers in this world. In Brookville and throughout the U.S.A., the student of today does not have to do much to get this chance at a high school education. He must show up for the start of the Freshman year and then remain in attendance for four years. Of course, he has to work to qualify for graduation, but at the same time he does not have to pay exorbitant fees; he does not have to walk miles to school; and he does not have to worry about being removed from school because he is not in the right social class. He is free to express his opinion without fear of being thrown into prison, and when he graduates, he is free to make his own choice of the career which he will follow.

These opportunities and freedoms have not always been here, and there is no positive assurance that they will remain. Only by increased effort on the part of students to understand our American system, both its weaknesses and strengths, can we hope that our country will remain strong.

I believe that students today are becoming more aware of their responsibilities. The percentage of teenagers attending school grows higher every year and likewise the number of high school graduates in our general population has been climbing. Our only hope is that the students of today continue to accept the responsibility of getting an education so that in the future they can be the strong leaders of our nation.

UNTIL GRADUATION TIME

The Class of 1959 marched slowly onto the platform in the Gym for the occasion that marked the end of its years as a part of Brookville High Schools. The four years that had looked very long now seemed brief.

The Seniors were a happy group as they lined up on the south lawn for a picture just before leaving for the long planned trip to Washington.

Oh here's to our dear old B.H.S.
With her banners flying high,
Sing cheers to the school we love the best
With her spirit "do or die."
With the green and white waving over us,
And her triumphs in our ears,
We will pledge our allegiance forever
And be loyal through the years.
May her records be ever unblemished,
May her students spread over her name and fame.
Wherever we wander, we'll always remember
Our days in B.H.S. Rah! Rah!

CLASS HISTORY

Reading, writing, and arithmetic, taught to the tune of "'Here's to Our Dear Old B.H.S.' with her banners flying high" were the words we used to hear preached by the teachers during our first years as "Green Freshmen." We were still full of meanness from our elementary years and had no desire to "Enter Ye To Learn." Nevertheless, we were able to elect Bill Griffith as our leader, Ray Nutty as Vice-President, Jim Lea as Secretary, and Ron Deffner as Treasurer. It was no problem occupying the time in study halls for the new gymnasium was being constructed. With our officers elected and under the guidance of our sponsors, Miss Hamilton, Mr. Bunz, Mr. Sprague, and Mr. D. McKinney, we presented an assembly program for the entire school, which revealed to everybody that the Freshmen weren't as untalented as most people thought. For our Freshmen class outing, we held a party in the old gym.

We entered our Sophomore year one year older and no longer the "underdogs." This was the year that the "mighty Greyhounds" won twenty-three consecutive games and were not defeated until they entered the regional at Rushville. We began to make our marks in the history of B.H.S. by winning such honors as the Church Attendance Record. The girls won the Inter-Class Tourney and placed in the Homecoming Parade for having the most original float. Our officers for this year were President, Eugene Beckman; Vice-President, Pat McCarty; Secretary, Carol Roell; and Treasurer, Ron Deffner. We presented a Christmas assembly program, "Puppy Love," which was enjoyed by the entire school. In our Sophomore year we selected our class colors of charcoal and white, and it wasn't long until we were wearing our class sweaters with the big "60" hanging on the sleeve.

It is said that the third time is the charm, and we proved this point upon entering our third year of high school. With Judy Kelly playing the part of Mary Todd and Junior Hogan as Abraham Lincoln, the Junior class, under the direction of Miss Hamilton, gave its presentation of "Love Is Eternal." This was the first year a play of this type had been given at B.H.S., and it was also our first money-making project. For Christmas, Santa brought the long awaited class rings. It was a lot of fun exchanging them and seeing how many spools of thread the girls could put on a single ring. The second major highlight of our Junior year was the Franklin County Junior-Senior Prom. We had a wonderful time dancing to the music of Will Houses' Orchestra. Once again the Junior girls held the honors of the Inter-Class Tourney. For Junior Day we presented a Valentine Program by the theme of "Famous Couples." Junior class officers were as follows: President, Eugene Beckman; Vice-President, Carol Roell; Secretary, Mary Beth Bernhart; and Treasurer, Ron Deffner. Our 1958-59 Junior year was brought to a close by an annual class party at Whitewater State Park--of course, it rained!

On August 31, 1959, the names of the students in the class of "60" were placed on the entering enrollment for the last time. This was our Senior year, and what a year this proved to be. Pictures were the first thing to come and then the name cards. Standing boldly against the wall, we were measured for our caps and gowns. In the field of dramatics, we scored another howling success by giving the ever popular play, "Father Knows Best." The chicken supper followed in the second semester; and then we were really "on our way" to Washington. At our last homecoming ball game, Ann Armbruster was crowned Homecoming Queen. The Senior class officers were Eugene Beckman, President; Jim Lea, Vice-President; Arnold Hofer, Secretary; and Ron Deffner, Treasurer. Wayne Bauer captured the Student Council presidency and proved to be a good leader of student government. Once again we won the Church Attendance Record by over 10 per cent majority. We were now already being forgotten by the students of B.H.S. and made our last fight for life at our Senior Day Program. Last but not least came our Senior Trip to Washington.

As we sit through our baccalaureate and commencement exercises, busily day dreaming about happy memories of our experiences at B.H.S., we would like to say to B.H.S., the faculty, students, and all the officials of the school, a great big and meaningful "Thank You" for all the things you have done for us.

SENIORS,

Why do I like being President of the Senior Class? I guess honor has something to do with it. There is responsibility in holding the office. There are committees to appoint throughout the year, meetings to conduct, and many other jobs to do.

I have been fortunate to have been chosen President of my class for three of the four years I have been in high school.

At the end of this year, we shall have had an excellent class play, a chicken supper and our long awaited trip to Washington.

JUNIORS,

Being elected President of the Class of 1961 for the third consecutive year was, indeed, an honor. This has been an enjoyable year during which we have succeeded in many activities.

I am deeply grateful for the cooperation and assistance given me by the class sponsors, other officers, and members of the class.

The highlights of the year were selection of class rings and the play.

FRESHMEN,

It has been fun being President of the Freshman Class this year.

We have given a variety show as our assembly program. The Freshman Chorus, a fashion show (boys dressed as girls), a pantomine (Seven Little Girls), and a square dance made up the program.

Right now, we are planning a Leap Year party. This party will be a "lady's choice." However, all the Freshmen are invited.

At the end of the year we will have a party or picnic, and then we will be Sophomores.

Highlights of Student Council activities include new Christmas decorations and the "Green and White Day".

The Christmas decorations of the school consisted primarily of a large painted window giving an effect of stained glass and a large star which was outlined with blue bulbs. The other big event which the Council was proud to pioneer was the "Green and White Day" that was held on the day of the Greyhounds' first home basketball game. The students wore green and white clothing during that day and at the game.

Other important Council projects included the sponsoring of one of the most successful Homecomings ever seen at B.H.S. and the buying of new equipment for concessions at football games. The Student Council also purchased items for the students which included a television set and professional entertainment for assemblies.

Thus we can conclude that the Student Council is "on the march" to make B.H.S. a better and more enjoyable institution of learning.

Mr. Ernest Showalter is the oldest living graduate of B.H.S. He graduated in 1892. He says the school is bigger today. There were 75 or 80 in the high school and five in the graduation class. Two students are living and three students, all girls, are dead. One teacher taught all the subjects except Latin and science. The superintendent, C. W. McClure, taught these other subjects. Robert M. King was the principal at this time.
